DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 and 6-14 are pending and under consideration in this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 112, First Paragraph

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 7, 8, 12, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

It is apparent that the strains WC196 Δ rmf and WC196 Δ rmf/pMPI700 are required to practice the claimed invention. As such WC196 Δ rmf and WC196 Δ rmf/pMPI700 must be readily available or obtainable by a repeatable method set forth in the specification, or otherwise readily available to the public. If it is not so obtainable or available, the requirements of 35 USC § 112, first paragraph, may be satisfied by a deposit of WC196 Δ rmf and WC196 Δ rmf/pMPI700.

The process disclosed in the specification to make WC196 Δ rmf and WC196 Δ rmf/pMPI700 does not appear to be repeatable, where the strains were searched and screened for the desired disruption of the gene encoding the RMF protein. The nucleotide sequences of the plasmid vectors used in the transformation of the WC196 Δ rmf and WC196 Δ rmf/pMPI700 are not fully disclosed, nor have all the nucleotide sequences required for their construction been shown to be biblically known and freely available. The specification does not disclose a repeatable process to obtain the WC196 Δ rmf and WC196 Δ rmf/pMPI700 since the specification only discloses searching and screening by antibiotic selection for strains that have the desired disruption of the gene encoding the RMF protein. It is not apparent if the source materials to make the WC196 Δ rmf and WC196 Δ rmf/pMPI700 are both known and readily available to the public.

If the deposit is made under the terms of the Budapest Treaty, then an affidavit or declaration by the applicant, or a statement by an attorney of record over his/her signature and registration number, stating that the specific microorganism has been deposited under the Budapest Treaty and that the strain will be irrevocably and without restriction or condition released to the public upon the issuance of the patent, would satisfy the deposit requirement made herein. If the deposit has not been made under the Budapest Treaty, then in order to certify that the deposit meets the criteria set forth in 37 C.F.R. 1.801-1.809 and MPEP 2402-2411.05, the applicant may provide assurance or compliance by an affidavit or declaration, or by a statement by an attorney of record over his/her signature and registration number, showing that:

- (1) during the pendency of this application, access to the invention will be afforded to the Commissioner upon request;
- (2) all restriction upon availability to the public will be irrevocably removed upon granting of the patent;
- (3) the deposit will be maintained in a public repository for a period of 30 years or 5 years after the last request or for the effective life of the patent, whichever is longer; and
- (4) the deposit will be replaced if it should ever become inviable.

Conclusion

4. Claims 1, 6, 9-11, and 14 are allowed.
